

A Shoot Day at the Clinic

Photography and film for Implant + Perio Clinic | Prepared for Dr Sanaz Tehrani

Real photographs and real footage of the clinic and the people in it, made by a professional team on a single day, then edited and distributed for you. Nothing to film yourselves. Nothing that becomes a second job.

What happens on the day

- Photography of the clinic, the treatment rooms, the team at work and the details that make the place what it is
- Film: genuine footage of the clinic and team, shot for short pieces rather than long ones
- Clinician pieces, when you feel like it: a short real answer to a real patient question, in your own words. Optional, every time
- We work alongside you and around the diary. Patients and treatments come first; we fit into the gaps

What you receive from each day

- A library of edited photographs for the website, social media, print and anything else you need
- One short film of the clinic, and a set of short clips cut from the day
- Any clinician pieces recorded, edited and captioned
- Distribution across the month, handled by us, so the content works without anyone at the clinic touching it. Or the full library handed over for your team to use as they wish

Cadence

Once a month, or once every two months. Your choice, and it can change. Each day stands on its own, so you book the next one when you want it.

Per shoot day

£1,400

Photography, film, editing and distribution for the month. That is the whole price.

Invoiced per day, after the shoot. One price, one day at a time.

Who is behind the camera

Hadi has spent twenty years behind a camera, first as a photojournalist and then photographing people and places for a living. This is the work he knows best, and he will be at the clinic on every shoot day.

The next step

Pick a cadence, and we put the first day in the diary. Everything else follows from that.
